COLISEO

HISTORY

In 64 CE the Great Fire of Rome devastated the city and Emperor Nero seized much of the area where the Colosseum now stands for himself. Construction began under Emperor Vespasian in CE 72 and was completed by his successor and heir, Titus, in CE 80. Further modifications were carried out during the reign of Domitian, the 3rd emperor in the Flavian dynasty, including the building of the hypogeum underneath the arena.

HISTOIRE

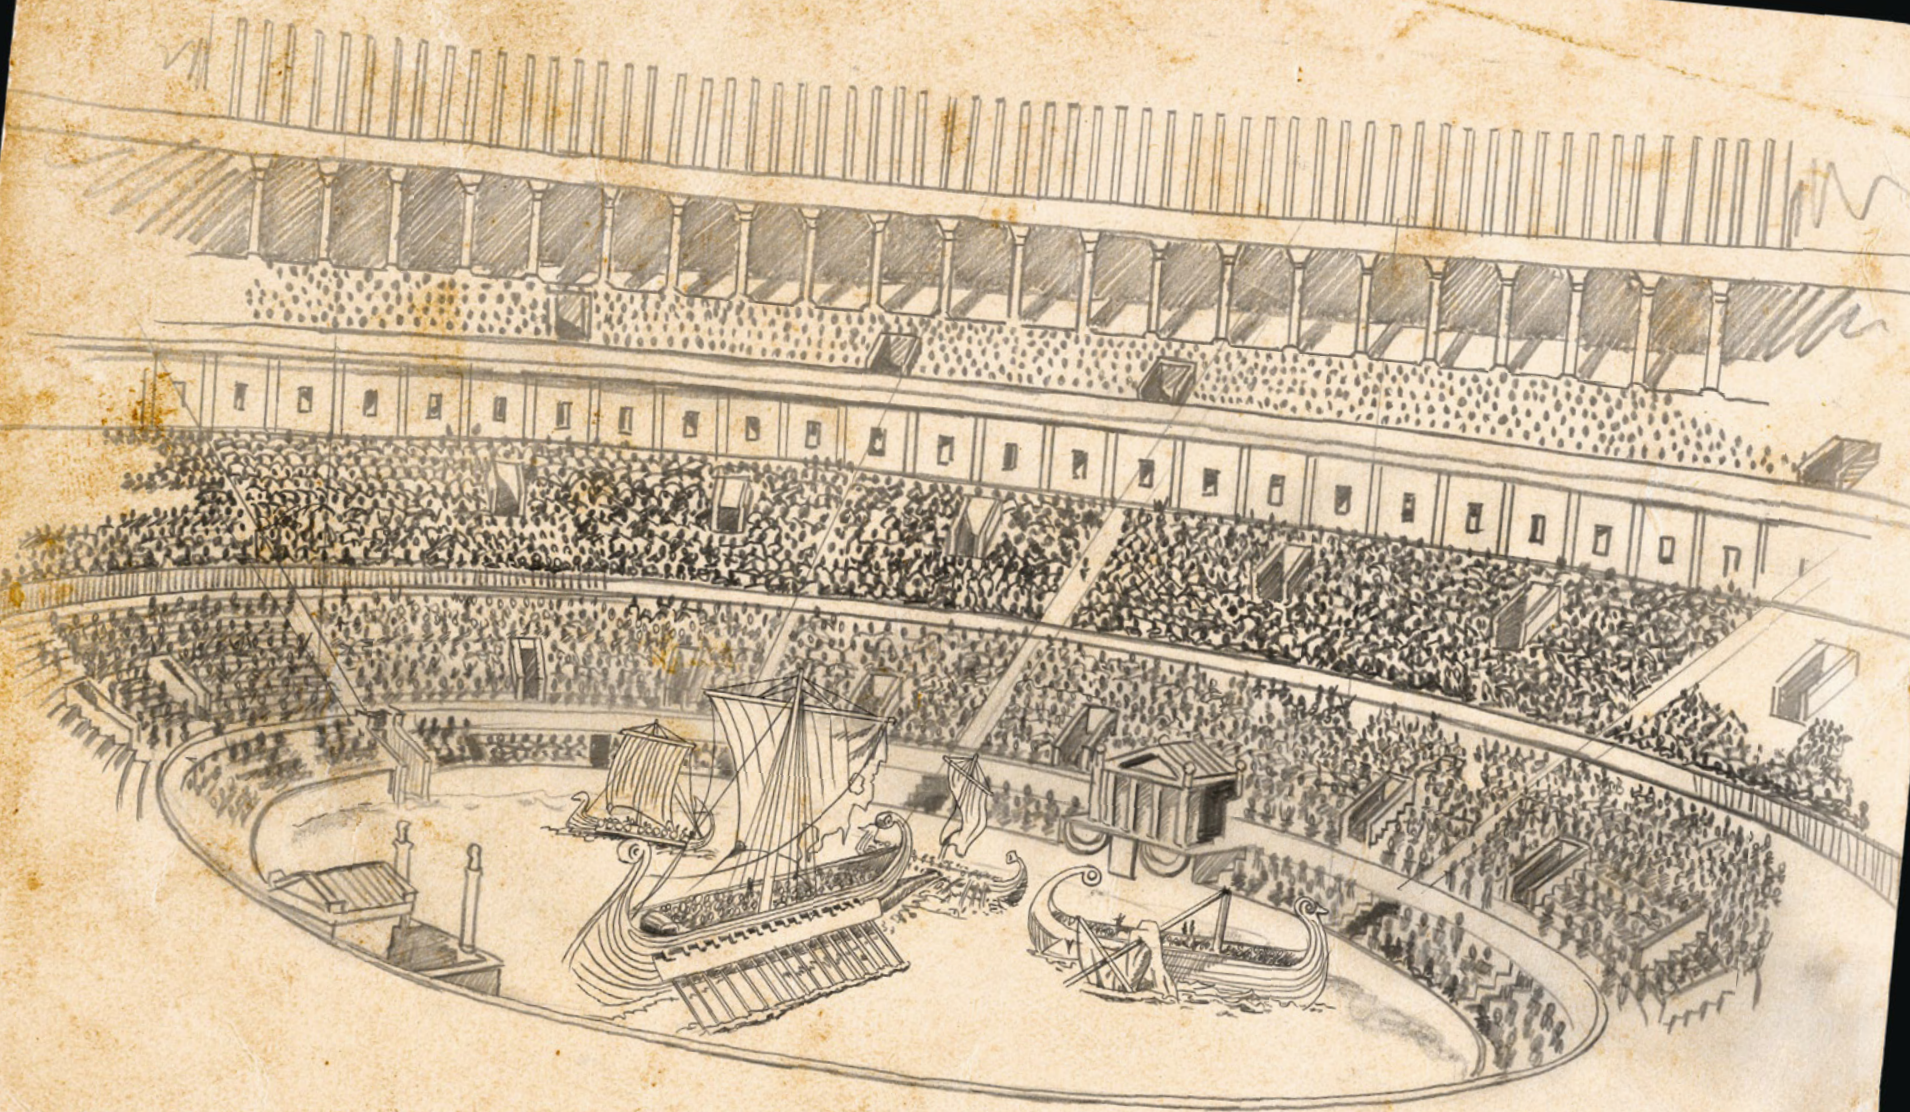

En 64 apr. J.-C., le grand incendie de Rome dévaste la ville, et l'empereur Néron s'empare d'une grande partie de la zone où le Colisée se tient aujourd'hui. La construction a commencé sous l'empereur Vespasien en 72 apr. J.-C. et s'est achevée sous son successeur et héritier, Titus, en 80 apr. J.-C. D'autres modifications, dont la construction de l'hypogée sous l'arène, ont été effectuées durant le règne de Domitien, le 3^e empereur de la dynastie flavienne.

HISTORIA

En el año 64 d. C., el gran incendio de Roma devastó la ciudad y el emperador Nerón se apoderó de gran parte del área donde ahora se encuentra el Coliseo. La construcción comenzó en el año 72 d. C., bajo el mandato del emperador Vespasiano, y fue completada por su sucesor y heredero, Tito, en el año 80 d. C. Durante el reinado de Domiciano, el tercer emperador de la dinastía flavia, se llevaron a cabo más modificaciones, entre ellas la construcción del hipogeo, situado debajo de la arena.

Crowds would flock to see the dramatic re-enactment of historic sea battles.

Les foules affluaient pour voir les reconstitutions dramatiques de batailles maritimes historiques.

Hasta entonces, las multitudes se reunían allí para presenciar dramáticas recreaciones de batallas navales históricas.

THE SPECTACLE

Some of the most popular events in the Colosseum were the reconstruction of epic naval battles. The first one was staged in AD 80, when the arena was flooded and specially constructed flat-bottomed ships replicated the battle between Athens and Syracuse. It is still unclear how the arena could be filled with water and drained again so quickly, but many ancient writers describe these spectacular shows that were called naumachiae.

LE SPECTACLE

Les reconstitutions de batailles navales épiques figuraient parmi les événements les plus populaires au Colisée. La première s'est tenue en 80 apr. J.-C., lorsque l'arène a été inondée pour permettre à des navires à fond plat spécialement construits de reproduire la bataille entre Athènes et Syracuse. On ne sait toujours pas comment l'arène pouvait être remplie d'eau puis drainée aussi rapidement, mais de nombreux écrivains antiques décrivent ces spectacles impressionnants appelés naumachies.

ESPECTÁCULO

Uno de los eventos de mayor popularidad de entre los que se celebraban en el Coliseo era la recreación de épicas batallas navales. El primero tuvo lugar en el año 80 d. C., cuando se inundó la arena y una serie de barcos de fondo plano contruidos especialmente para la ocasión replicaron la batalla entre Atenas y Siracusa. No se sabe con seguridad cómo era posible inundar la arena y vaciarla con tanta rapidez, pero son muchos los antiguos historiadores que describen estos espectaculares montajes, denominados naumachiae.

Each tier was divided into sections and further subdivided into cunei, or wedges, by the steps and aisles from the vomitoria. Each row (gradus) of seats was numbered, permitting each individual seat to be exactly designated by its gradus, cuneus, and number.

Chaque niveau était divisé en sections et subdivisé en cunei, ou coins, par les marches et les allées des vomitoria. Chaque rangée (gradus) de sièges était numérotée, permettant à chaque siège individuel d'être désigné exactement par son gradus, son cuneus et son numéro.

Los niveles estaban divididos en secciones, y estas, a su vez, en cuñas (cunei) mediante las escaleras y pasillos de los vomitoria. Cada fila (gradus) estaba numerada, lo que permitía identificar con exactitud cualquier asiento por su gradus, cuneus y número.

THE SPECTATORS

With estimated crowds of up to 80,000, the composition of the Colosseum's audience mirrored the rigid class structure of Roman society. Special boxes at the north and south ends of the arena offered the best views and were reserved for the emperor. These were surrounded by the senatorial class, while the tier directly above was occupied by the noblemen. Above them sat the wealthy and respected citizens of the city, and at the very top stood the common poor and slaves.

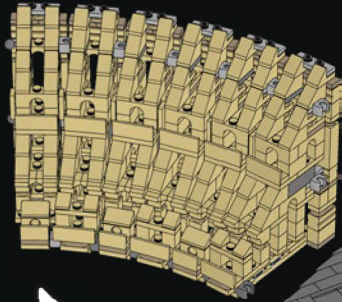

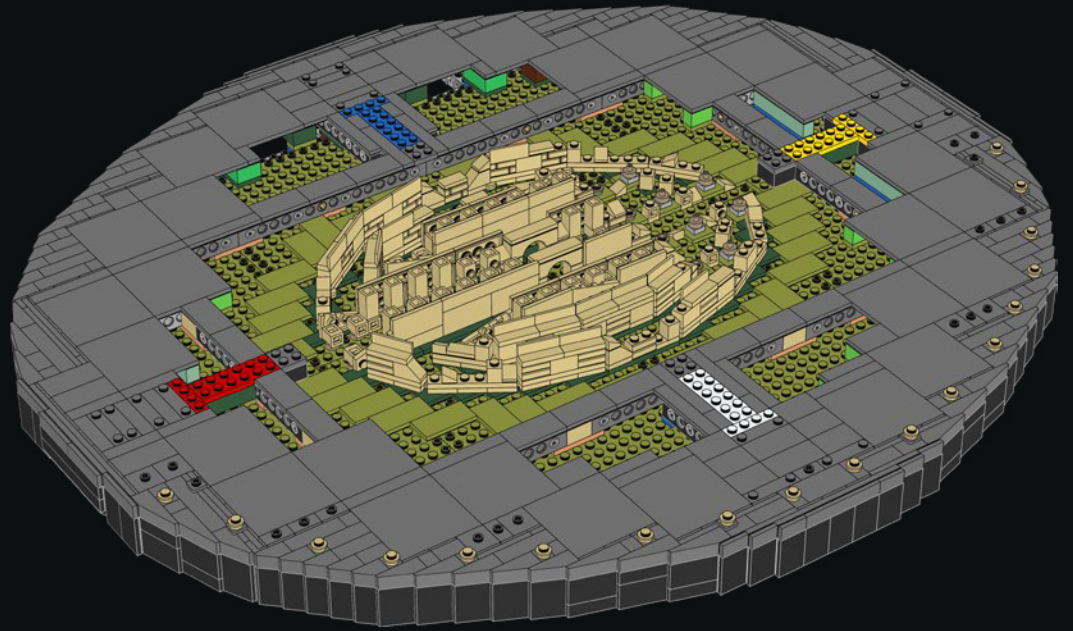

LES SPECTATEURS

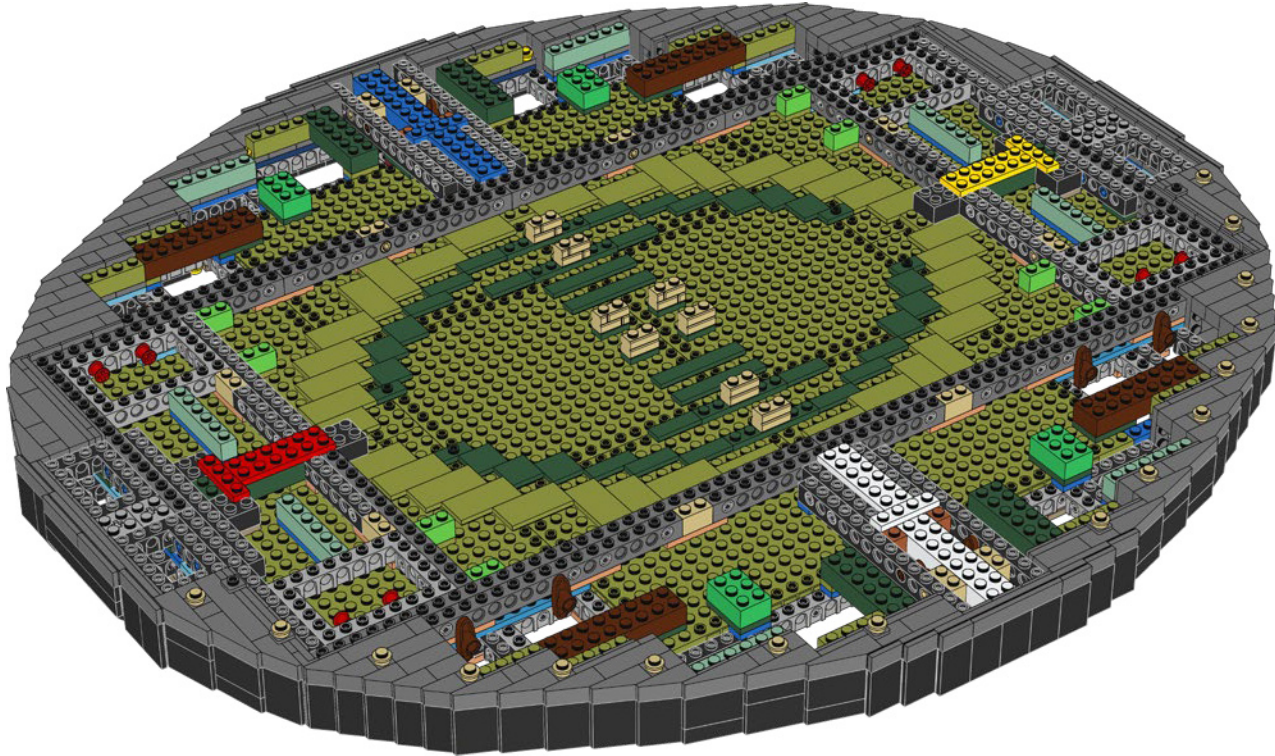

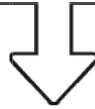

Avec une foule pouvant compter jusqu'à 80 000 personnes, l'arrangement du public du Colisée reflétait la structure de classe rigide de la société romaine. Des loges spéciales aux extrémités nord et sud de l'arène offraient les meilleures vues et étaient réservées à l'empereur. Autour d'elles se trouvait la section accueillant la classe sénatoriale, tandis que le niveau directement au-dessus était occupé par les nobles. Les citoyens riches et respectés de la ville prenaient place au niveau suivant, et les pauvres et les esclaves se trouvaient au sommet des gradins.

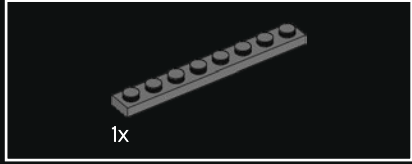

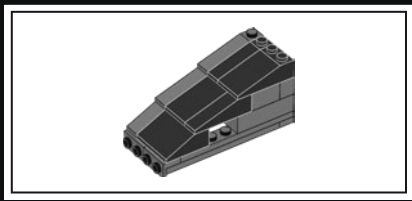

ESPECTADORES

Con audiencias estimadas de hasta 80.000 personas, la composición del público del Coliseo reflejaba la rígida estructura de clases de la sociedad romana. Los palcos especiales de los extremos norte y sur de la arena ofrecían las mejores vistas y estaban reservados para el emperador. Estos estaban rodeados de áreas para la clase senatorial, mientras que el nivel inmediatamente superior estaba destinado a la nobleza. Sobre ellos se sentaban los ciudadanos más adinerados y respetados de la ciudad. Las gradas más altas eran para los pobres y esclavos comunes.
