FROM THEN TO NOW

For almost 2,000 years, the Colosseum has stood as a symbol of ancient Rome and survived fires, earthquakes and the loss of its stone blocks to other buildings in the city. Today it's one of the world's most visited tourist destinations and visitors wander through the subterranean passages of the hypogeum or gaze down from the upper levels to the partially re-floored arena.

D'HIER À AUJOURD'HUI

Pendant près de 2 000 ans, le Colisée a été un symbole de la Rome antique et a perduré malgré les incendies, les tremblements de terre et le retrait de ses blocs de pierre au profit d'autres bâtiments de la ville. Aujourd'hui, c'est l'une des destinations touristiques les plus visitées au monde, et les visiteurs peuvent explorer les passages souterrains de l'hypogée ou admirer l'arène, dont le parquet a été partiellement reconstitué, depuis les niveaux supérieurs.

DESDE LA ANTIGÜEDAD HASTA EL DÍA DE HOY

Durante casi 2000 años, el Coliseo ha destacado como símbolo de la antigua Roma y ha sobrevivido a incendios, terremotos y la pérdida de sus bloques de piedra en favor de otros edificios de la ciudad. Hoy es uno de los destinos turísticos más visitados del mundo; sus visitantes deambulan por los pasajes subterráneos del hipogeo u observan la arena, parcialmente cubierta de piso, desde los niveles superiores.

Serving as a major tourist attraction today, the Colosseum's upper floor of the outer wall houses a museum dedicated to Eros.

L'étage supérieur du mur extérieur du Colisée abrite un musée dédié à Éros, qui est aujourd'hui une attraction touristique très populaire.

Como la importante atracción turística que es hoy en día, la planta superior del muro exterior del Coliseo alberga un museo dedicado al dios Eros.

Why IIII and not IV? Actually, the Romans used both, sometimes even in the same document!

Pourquoi IIII et pas IV ? En fait, les Romains utilisaient les deux formes, parfois même dans le même document !

¿Por qué IIII y no IV? En realidad, los romanos usaban ambas formas; ¡a veces incluso dentro del mismo documento!
