LE PAQUEBOT INSUBMERSIBLE

Le RMS Titanic est doté de nombreux dispositifs de sécurité de pointe, mais la réglementation désuète en matière de sécurité maritime n'exige que 20 canots de sauvetage à bord, soit juste assez pour accueillir un tiers de l'équipage et des passagers. Peu avant minuit le 14 avril 1912, le navire heurte un iceberg à haute vitesse et sombre. Le nombre limité de canots ne permet de sauver que 710 personnes, les 1 500 autres périssant en mer. Suite à cette tragédie, de nouvelles normes de sécurité internationales, dont plusieurs sont encore en vigueur aujourd'hui, sont instaurées.

UNE AMPLIEUR TITANESQUE

À son lancement, le Titanic est le plus grand navire jamais construit. Il mesure plus de 269 m de long et 53,3 m du fond de la coque jusqu'au sommet de ses cheminées. De même, la version LEGO® du RMS Titanic est le modèle LEGO le plus long jamais créé, et l'un des plus complexes.

La version LEGO du Titanic est construite à l'échelle 1:200, la même que celle du set LEGO Architecture La statue de la Liberté.

Le Titanic est 11 fois plus long que la baleine bleue, le plus grand animal ayant existé sur Terre.

SECTION 5 :

CHEMINÉE ET SALLE DES MACHINES

Dans cette section, le modèle s'affine vers la poupe du navire, où se trouvent les hélices et le gouvernail. Vous construirez également la dernière cheminée du modèle. Sur le vrai Titanic, cette cheminée n'est reliée à aucune chaudière, et fait tout simplement partie de la conception du navire pour lui donner une apparence plus élégante.

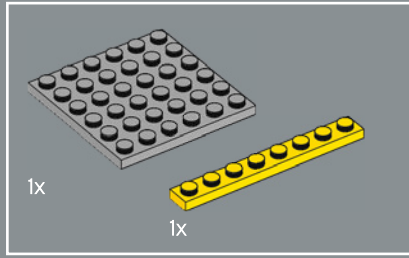

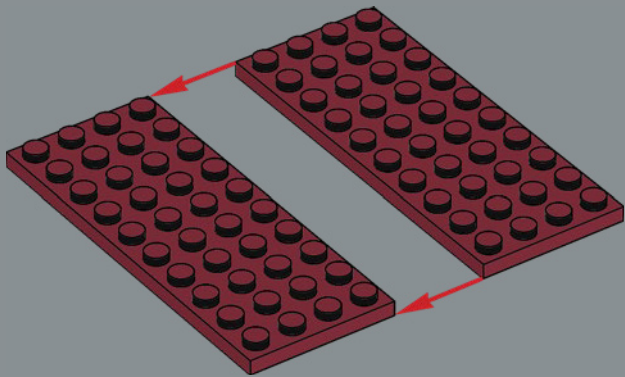

↓ Tout en haut de cette section, vous ajouterez la salle de lecture et certaines cabines de la 2e classe.

SECTION 6 :

POUPE ET COFFRE

Cette dernière section représente la partie la plus complexe de la coque et comprend le gouvernail et les trois principaux arbres de transmission qui relient les hélices aux moteurs. Vous construirez les deux principaux moteurs à pistons qui sont reliés directement aux vis à bâbord et à tribord. En tournant les vis, vous pouvez faire bouger les vilebrequins et les pistons à l'intérieur du modèle.

↘ Les détails extérieurs de cette section comprennent la poupe et les bancs pour les passagers de la 3<sup>e</sup> classe.

Vu ses dimensions imposantes, soit 24 m de haut et 4,65 m de large, ainsi que son poids de plus de 100 tonnes, le gouvernail doit être dirigé à l'aide de moteurs de direction.
