Mercedes-AMG F1 W14 E Performance

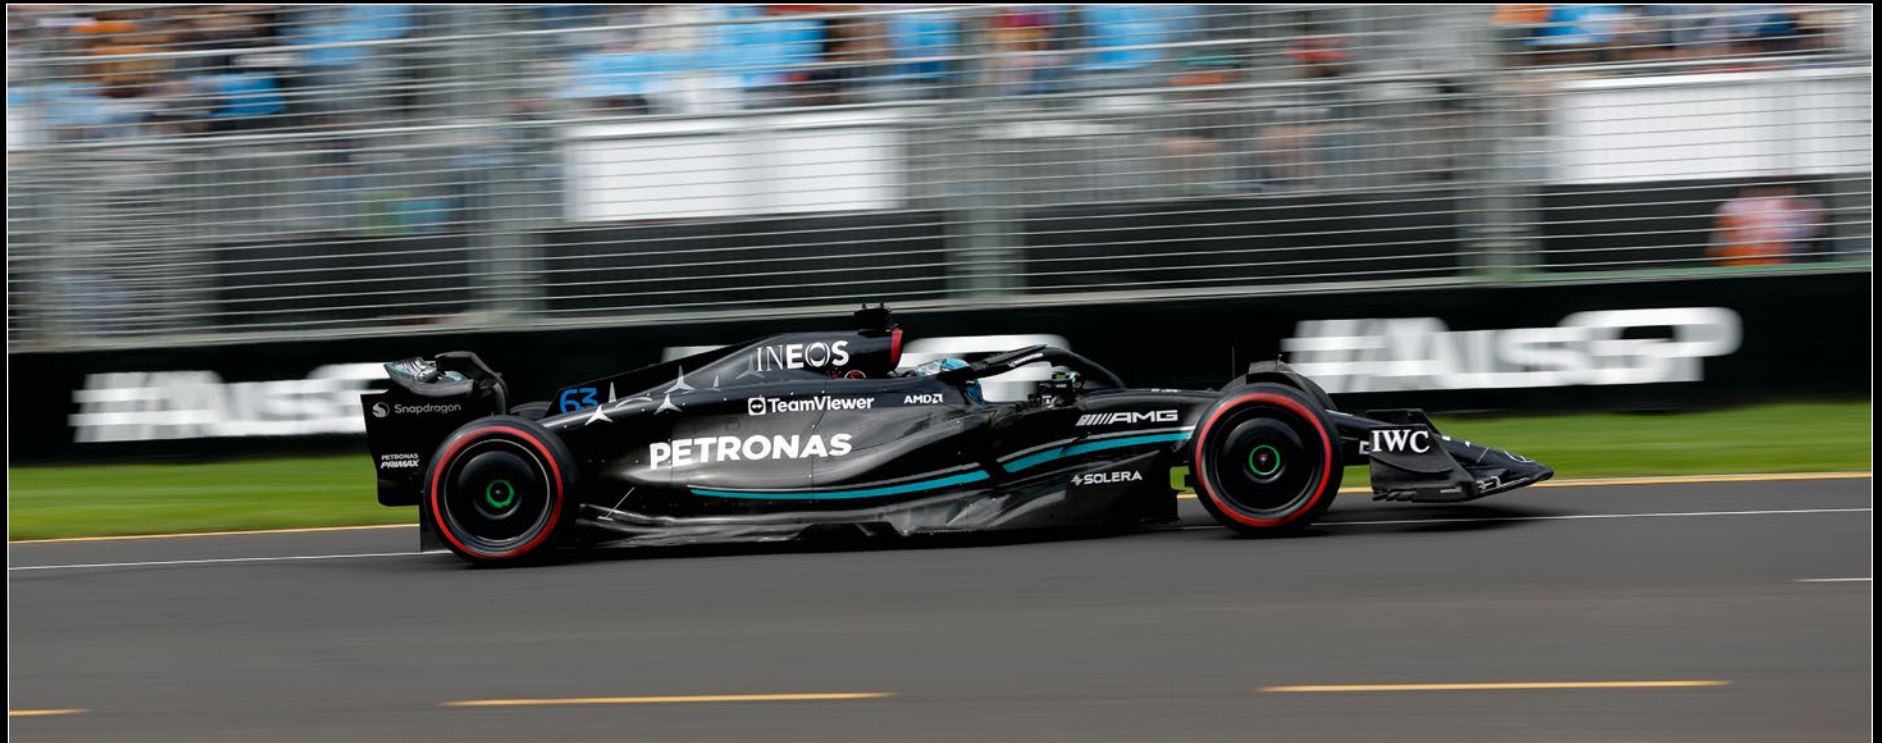

LA PERFORMANCE EN DÉTAIL

Le développement de voitures de course pour le championnat du monde de Formule 1 est un processus cyclique. Au sein de l'équipe LEGO® Technic, nous savons qu'avant le début de chaque course et le lancement de chaque set, il est nécessaire d'organiser des phases d'évaluation des performances, d'optimisation des techniques ou des technologies et de mettre en place des tests et des analyses des données afin d'optimiser les performances. Au cours de la dernière décennie, la Mercedes-AMG PETRONAS F1 Team et ses pilotes n'ont cessé d'établir de nouvelles références pour ce sport. Entre 2010, année de son retour en tant que constructeur, et la fin de la saison 2022, l'équipe de F1 de Mercedes-AMG a remporté 116 victoires, 264 podiums, 128 pole positions, 91 meilleurs tours et 54 doublés sur un total de 259 départs de course. Point culminant provisoire de ces victoires, la Mercedes-AMG F1 W14 E Performance de 2023 constituait un défi très séduisant pour l'équipe de conception Technic.

UN MILLION D'HEURES

« Il est extrêmement complexe de construire une voiture de F1 et il faut compter environ un million d'heures de travail avant qu'elle ne fasse son premier tour sur la piste. Chaque voiture de F1 est conçue, fabriquée et construite par des centaines de personnes issues de différents départements.

Une voiture est constituée de plusieurs sous-ensembles, conçus séparément puis assemblés pour former le produit final. Ces sous-ensembles peuvent inclure le bloc-moteur, la boîte de vitesses et les différentes parties de la voiture. Chaque sous-ensemble est lui-même composé de centaines de composants.

Chaque composant monté sur la voiture doit être testé de différentes manières afin de s'assurer qu'il est structurellement sain et suffisamment robuste. Les départements tels que Tests et Développement, Essais Non Destructifs et Inspection sont essentiels pour garantir la fiabilité des pièces et leur capacité à fonctionner à leur plein potentiel sur la piste. Dès lors, c'est à l'équipe d'ingénieurs qui travaillent directement sur le circuit qu'il revient de tirer au mieux parti de la voiture que nous avons et de donner aux pilotes le meilleur outil possible. »

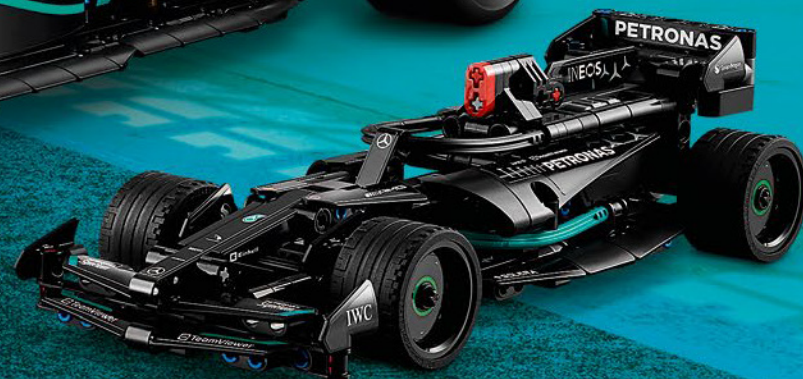

James Allison, directeur technique de Mercedes-AMG PETRONAS F1 Team.

MERCEDES-AMG PETRONAS F1 TEAM X TECHNIC

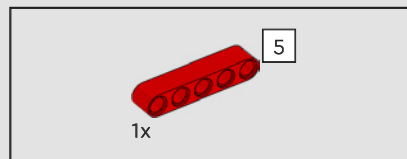

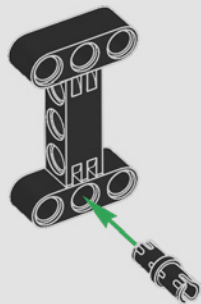

« Avec la W14, l'équipe Mercedes-AMG PETRONAS F1 Team a créé un design iconique en se concentrant sur la réduction du poids de sa voiture de course phare de 2023. L'utilisation d'une fibre de carbone noire permet de réduire le poids du châssis, notamment en éliminant la peinture qui était généralement utilisée sur les anciens modèles. La couleur noire rappellera peut-être également aux fans de course automobile la livrée signature de 2020. Le noir ajoute vraiment un côté agressif et dominant à cette voiture emblématique et nous voulions évidemment le refléter dans la version LEGO® Technic.

Notre collaboration étroite avec l'équipe Mercedes-AMG PETRONAS F1 Team nous a permis de reproduire les aspects marquants de la conception et les principales fonctions de la W14 (en moins d'un million d'heures). Nous avons développé trois nouveaux panneaux pour recréer les courbes aérodynamiques uniques. L'aile arrière peut être sortie pour simuler le système de réduction de la traînée, et la direction peut être actionnée depuis l'intérieur de la voiture ou en tournant le bouton sur le toit. Sous le capot, vous pourrez admirer le moteur V6 et ses pistons mobiles, le différentiel et la suspension dotée de tiges de poussée et de traction. De nouveaux pneus slicks et des enjoliveurs authentiques complètent l'allure emblématique et la sensation que procure la vraie voiture. »
